THE INVESTMENT THESIS

The Knights of the Round Table (KoRT) has successfully engineered a scalable, self-funded civilian crisis response network serving as a vital "4th option" to 911. Focusing on mental health, addiction recovery, and systemic advocacy, KoRT operates a sovereign technology ecosystem. We are seeking $450,000 CAD to transition from a decentralized digital model to a hybrid operational structure through the acquisition of land and the construction of the primary KoRT Command Center.

The Problem: The Vulnerability of the Cloud

Currently, the operations of our proprietary networks—including our P2P dispatching and systemic advocacy platforms—rely on fragmented, decentralized housing. To achieve institutional scale and absolute data sovereignty, we must eliminate our reliance on standard, vulnerable cloud infrastructure and centralize our localized AI hardware.

The Solution: The KoRT Command Center

This $450,000 capital injection will acquire strategic property in the Cowichan Valley and fund the construction of a purpose-built Command Center. This facility will permanently house our sovereign hardware, provide a secure central dispatch environment, and serve as the foundational hub for our long-term community housing goals.

THE XCEPTION CONTRACTING ADVANTAGE

The critical de-risking factor of this investment is execution. All site development and construction will be managed and executed by Xception Contracting Ltd., a registered BC general contracting firm directed by the founder. By substituting standard commercial labor rates with founder sweat equity and procuring materials at wholesale trade pricing, we completely eliminate the 20-30% General Contractor markup. This creates immediate equity arbitrage: the finished physical asset will appraise significantly higher than the capital deployed to build it.

Leadership & Coalition

- Michael Kevin Slemko (Founder & Director): Director of Xception Contracting Ltd. Driving the project vision, acting as the GC for the Command Center, and managing manual site deployments to ensure absolute security.
- William Suffill (Communications Partner): Managing strategic external communications and platform control.
- Andrei (Technology Partner - Minerva Solutions): Providing high-level technical collaboration and hardware strategy from Victoria, BC.
